2020 Track Layout

For 2024 IFMAR Worlds we will rebuild the track.

All the facilities will be available at the track for the Worlds, we did a previous layout below about it.

Today The track has structure to withstand comfortably 50 drivers, for the Worlds the organizer of the event will rent tents and restrooms to enlarge the structure for 230 drivers, mechanics and all staff.

All drives will access easily the food court, pit lane, restrooms and warm up areas. The Drivers also will have a Power Supply 110V energy will be supply on the all work tables and Cleaning. Area with air compressor and car wash area. all support for car maintenance like compressed air and wash area.

The Driver Stand has comfortable space for 15 drives.

The track has a full lighting system that aloud night races.

We will work together to make the first off road world championship in Brazil unforgettable. The track is perfect for the Worlds with 300 meters extension with soil texture.

We have plans to increase the race control location

High speed internet will be available exclusive for media, live timing and live video. RCM (Race Control Management) will be used for the event Timing. Each participant is responsible for aching a My Laps RC4 compatible transponder to their car during the whole event, including practice. The results of the championship will be available at www.febarc.org.

RC Fuel for Event

Eagle Fuel

We can provide high quality fuel made in Brazil. Produced by a large company with ISO 9001 certification (www.arpol.com.br) and professional procedures.

Fuel sold regularly to Brazil, Argentina and Paraguay.

Already tested by great pilots like Robert Batlle, Agustin Cutitni.

Eagle Fuel is produced in a city neighboring São Paulo.

VP Fuel

In the coming months, probably have a new VP Fuel supplier

There are more brands of fuel, but with less sales reach and informal

Recommended Restaurant near the event

Other Restaurants in São Paulo

Fogo de Chão

R. Augusta, 2077, Cerqueira César, São Paulo

Churrasco is a Brazilian icon. So, to enjoy this delight to its fullest, you should try a Brazilian institution like Fogo de Chão. Served in the “all you can eat” style with meat being carved at the table and a salad bar to accompany, this is a good value option for enjoying Churrasco.

Depending on your budget, you may prefer to order one of their massive tomahawk or T-bone steaks or a huge beef rib to share. There’s no shortage of Churrascaria in São Paulo but Fogo de Chão is budget-friendly with good quality meat on display.

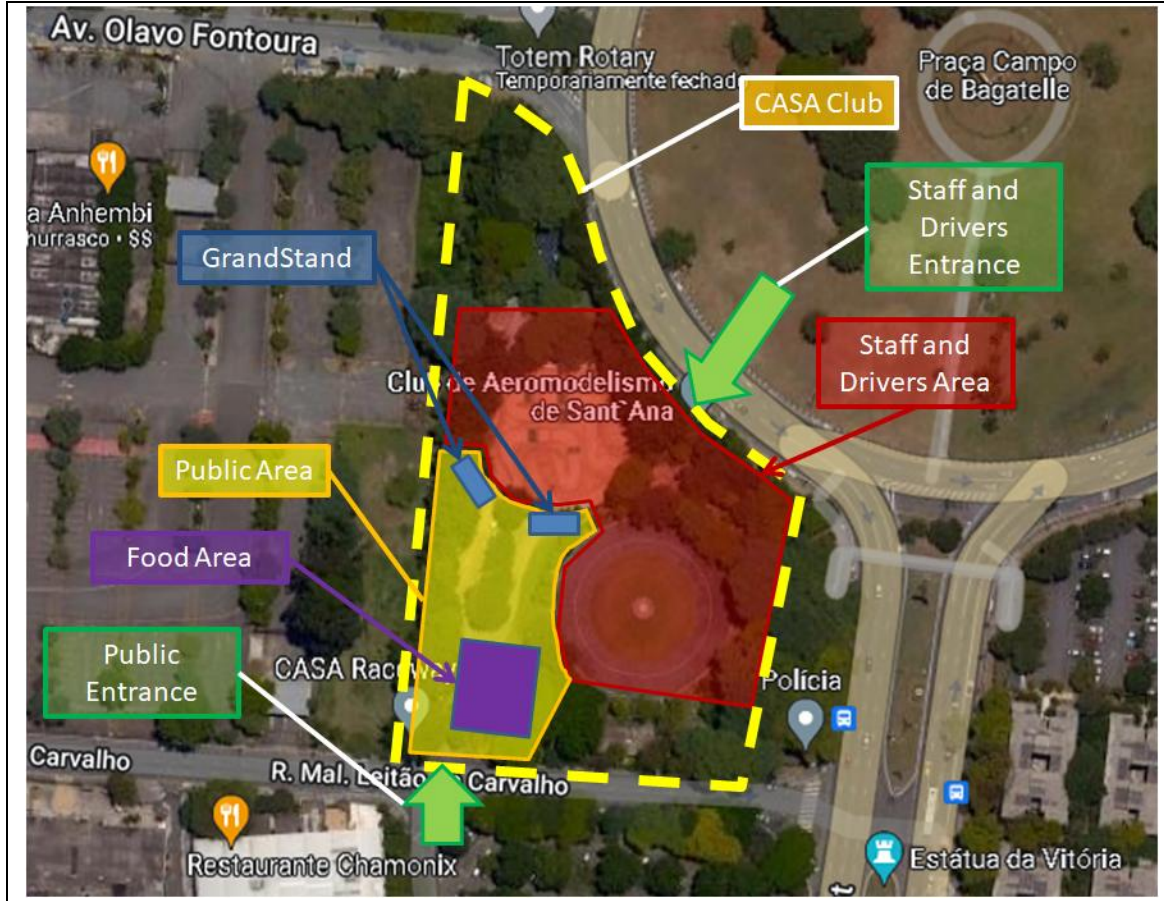

Bolinha

Avenida Cidade Jardim, 53 Jardim Europa, Itaim Bibi, São Paulo

Need to get your Feijoada fix? Look no further than Bolinha. With several varieties of Feijoada to try, you don’t need to wait for a Saturday to tuck into this hearty stew. Their traditional version has 10 cuts of pork so it truly is a hearty bowl. Servings are huge and ideal for 2 to share – and that’s coming from a non-food sharer! Don’t forget to have a few Caipirinhas with your feijoada too. For us, this is the best restaurant in São Paulo for lunch – because then we can take the traditional nap afterwards too.

Public

We will have an isolated sector for the public, with a food court and bleachers
